

Friday: Imagine that you are working for a magazine and you are about to get the opportunity to interview your favourite famous person- write about who it is and a list of questions that you would ask them, give made-up answers to the questions. the same as we did in Irish. You might need to look them up online!